PEOPLE AND CATTLE ARE STARVING

Pictures from the last great famine in India, the conditions of which are now being repeated. An Appeal for help from the General appears on Page Three. The Self-Denial Fund will aid such sufferers as these, as well as other needy people in heathen lands where Salvation Army Missionary-Officers are labouring for the Master.

JESUS LIVES

Tell the glad news, both far and near,
That Jesus lives!
The grave, with all its shadowy den,
Is conquered, in, and we need not fear—
For Jesus lives!

Tell out the news to sinful men,
That Jesus lives!
He once was dead, but rose again;
The Lamb of God, for sinners slain,
The Saviour lives!

Oh! when we feel our faith is gone,
Our Jesus lives!
He pleads for us by yonder throne,
His victory to the world is shown—
For Jesus lives!

Poor weeping one, lift up thine eyes,
Thy Saviour lives!
He paid thy debt and satisfied
God's justice by His sacrifice—
Thy Saviour lives!

And soon life's sorrows will be o'er,
For Jesus lives!
We, too, shall live for evermore,
The pledge He gives is safe and sure,
Because He lives!
For Jesus lives!

HOW TO BE SAVED

Repent.
Turn from your sins.
Seek God's pardon.
Believe that He, for Christ's sake,
will forgive and cleanse you.
If you are a slave to any wrong
habit you can have deliverance, but it can only be as the result of your surrendering yourself entirely to God and giving Him all.
Knowing how sin has had dominion
over you, it may seem hopeless to expect to fight it, but God has a way of helping you to meet this difficulty. His grace will be sufficient.
Does it seem hard to believe?
Well, many others have found it so.
Yet when faith is exercised, when God is believed and trusted, He always answers prayer.
Do not lose any time in coming to a decision in this matter. Give God
your whole heart now.

SEARCHLIGHT

"He that winneth souls is wise."
"He that believeth on Me,
greater works than these
shall he do."
"If ye shall ask anything in My name, I will do it."
"He that teacheth his life for My sake shall find it."
"Ask, and ye shall receive,
that your joy may be full."
"Peace I leave with you,
My peace I give unto you."
"The Holy Ghost . . . shall teach you all things, and
bring . . . to your remembrance whatsoever I have said unto you."

ALL WRONGS will be made right some day. If we have done wrong in this world, we can
repent of it, and when necessary
confess it, and God will forgive
and save.

If wrongs are not made right
—before we die—by repentance,
and by restitution where necessary
and possible, we will have to face
them after we die.

If we do not judge ourselves
and make things right here, God
will judge us hereafter.

CANDIDATES WANTED!

A Stirring Call to Young Men and Women to Devote Their Lives
to the Service of God and the Salvation Army.

By MRS. ADJUTANT KENDALL

THE subject most discussed at the present time is Reconstruction, but what the old world needs most of all is the regenerating power of the Holy Ghost, which casts all darkness and strife, and brings a lasting and permanent peace. Oh for a revival of the "old time religion"
to sweep over the world, that
would drive out all covetousness
and worldly self-seeking, until all
ambitions and desires were centered in Jesus.

Need Is Great

Surely the need was never greater for men and women to leave all and follow Christ and become fishers of men. When Jesus saw the multitude on the beach, he said with compassion on them, because they fainted and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no Shepherd. Then said He unto His disciples "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are
few. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that He will send forth laborers into His harvest."

Young men and young women
have you seen the multitude going down the broad way to destruction? Has your soul not been moved with compassion and a longing to win them for Christ?
Alas! alas! I fear many never see or hear the cry of the lost ones
of our world. He who has been sent to God, for Him to reveal His will to them. I said to a young man
in one of our Corps "I feel God wants you out of this." He immediately replied "Oh, no, I have not heard the slightest call to be an Officer." Not long after he was at the altar seeking holiness,
and a few nights after he came
to me and said "I've got to go;
God has definitely spoken to me."
He had at last got near enough
for God to talk to him. Are you within speaking distance and able to say "Speak Lord, for thy account hearth?"

Why Is It?

Isaiah heard the voice of God
saying "Whom shall I send and who will go for me?" After he lived, coal had touched his lips and his iniquity was taken away and his sin purged, he immediately
answered "Here am I, send me."
To see young men out of Khaki
during the four years of war,
brought forth the question "Why
have they not enlisted to fight
for their country?" It seems equally strange to see young men

and women still in the home
Corps, who have ability and in-particular home ties. We cannot help but ask "Why have they not given their lives to win souls?"
This war is still on, the enemy
of our soul, the arch-fiend of hell, is still mobilizing all his forces to hinder God's work, and to death and hell. Salvation Army Soldiers are you so taken up with the material things and worldly honours, that you have lost sight of the grandest calling
this side of eternity, a winner of souls?

How emphatic is the Scripture.
"And they that be wise shall
shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many
to righteousness, as the stars
for ever and ever." Bishop Taylor, of the Methodist Church,
said in his latter years, if he could have his choice, he would rather spend the next twenty-five years in the heart of Africa winning the souls to Jesus, than spend it in Heaven.

Filled with the Spirit

Who are those with a burning love for souls? Not the lukewarm and backsliders in heart, not those who are only Christian in name,
but they who are filled with the Spirit of God. This Spirit carries
us out beyond our own little circle
and kindles a zeal within us to go into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature. What a responsibility rests upon every Field Officer in leading people up
to a full surrender, a complete
dedication of their life to God for service.

Getting them to the Penitent Form is just the beginning, but if their conversion is real and radical, they will have spiritual
appetites and will desire "the sincere milk of the Word that they may grow thereby." It will then be easy to lead them into the precious experience of Holiness,
which means ready obedience to
all the revealed will of God.

The Salvation Army wants
Candidates who are God-sent,
who have a strong conviction that cannot be shaken off, that God
has definitely called them to leave
the plough or office, or whatever occupation they followed, that He might make them fishers of men.
But, my dear comrades, God is
so anxious to save precious souls
from destruction that if your soul

is full of His love, He will choose you to be a Field Officer,
and send you to a burning hell, and will
put your name down for active
service.

Do you say you have not the talent and ability? What made John Wesley, Whitfield, William Bryan, Kiersey, Caughy, and
our glorified General and Army
Mother, and others, such mighty soul-winners? Was it their profound knowledge, and keen intellect, and brilliant oratory? No,
they possessed a deep passion for the souls of men. They felt like Jeremiah when he cried, "Oh, that
my head were waters and mine
eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people." And as the Apostle
when he said, "My little children,
of whom I travail in birth until Christ be formed within you."

Mighty Weapons

It is not eloquence or ability or human wisdom that are mighty in
the pulling down of Satan's
strongholds, but prayer and simplicity, devotedness and perseverance. The preaching of the free Gospel of the Grace of God will bring sinners to the Cross, and build up the Army. How much better when Candidates possess
these graces and qualities, and also education and talent, for God
and His service ought to have the best and most clever men and women.

The chief qualification, however, is a baptism of the Holy Ghost and fire, for no man or woman is equipped to rightly preach
the Gospel and undertake the spiritual oversight and instruction
of souls until he or she has been anointed with the Holy Ghost.
This calling is not a profession
which we can pick up or lay down
at our pleasure or convenience,
and is to be regarded as the business of our life, and we must devote ourselves to it to the exclusion of all other interests and ambitions.

Hurry Up and Apply

You ought-to-be-Candidates,
hurry up and send in your application. Soon you will be to the end of the journey, and will want some shoes to lay at His feet. How sad to cry out at the close of our pilgrimage.

"Must I go and empty-handed
stand before my God?
Not one soul with which I
must I empty-handed go!"

Heaven is where the joy-bells ring
and music fills the bolmy air,
but that which will make Heaven sweet
to us will be what we have done
for God, and those around us.

Jesus died to free you from all
condemnation if you will comply with the conditions.

If you do not accept His mercy
and comply with His conditions,
He will judge you accordingly.

The Father who is infinitely
just waits while Jesus who is infinitely merciful calls you to Salvation through repentance and faith.
Will you have it, or face God
at the Judgment Throne without
it? This may be your last chance!

Save your risk putting it off!

INDIA IS STARVING!

APPEAL FROM THE GENERAL

Self-Denial Will Help to Send Food to Save the People From Death

By Cable, London, April 24th.

WE ARE COMPELLED TO DO SOMETHING MORE and immediately for the famine stricken people of India. Millions are faced with starvation. Our people are struggling with limited resources to meet the situation, and Commissioner Booth-Tucker makes urgent appeal for further help.

One fact alone should bring home to Salvationists and friends the appalling need.
Staple articles of food for the poor are now three times higher in price than they were
during the disastrous famine of the year 1899, when millions of peasants and others died from sheer starvation.

The outlook is truly grave. People are dying of starvation by the roadside already,
and the worst is yet to come. Have sent five thousand dollars. Must send more.

BRAMWELL BOOTH, General.

FROM the information we have already
published, and the further urgent appeal
from the General printed above, it will be observed that the famine in India is becoming more grave.

SHORTAGE OF GRAIN

Reports cable from International Headquarters show that the parts most seriously
affected are Bombay and Madras Presidencies, Central India, and the United Provinces.
Owing to the failure of rains there is a short-
age of grain and fodder, and this is rushing up
the prices of foodstuffs to an extent which places them practically beyond the reach of the common people. The normal condition of the Indian peasant is one of poverty, and when famine comes a very short time brings tragedy. In some parts of the country, fired
by hunger, natives have raided sugar fields
and colour fights with guards have ensued,
the result being that many have been severely wounded with scythes. In other parts, the hunger-driven people are making porridge

with black soil sediment from reservoir beds,
containing frogs and fish. Others are eating lotus roots, grass seeds, nut kernels, and
flowers of the lippa trees, the last named containing an intoxicating spirit, which makes
young and old stupid and sick.

Naturally, the children suffer most. They die off, and the strongest of the younger adults
go away, so that the villages are being de-
populated, except for aged and infirmed.

Cattle, which in normal times fetched sixty rupees per head, are being sold for three or four rupees because there is no fodder, and
this means not only present loss, but that the means of livelihood for the future is gone.

The Salvation Army is close to the Indian
people and keenly alive to the conditions and
is facing the great problem of relief with all its forces. Experience is against the indi-
cminate handing out of doles at any time,

but this would be especially disastrous in the present crisis. The Salvation Army's scheme
for employing people in cleansing villages has aroused interest. Those in authority agree that it is better to employ than to pauperize,
and the improving of sanitation means fewer
epidemics and better general health, as well
as the work involved making it possible for the people to earn their food. Brigades are working under the supervision of our Officers
in Guzerat in two hundred villages.

ARMY IN CLOSE TOUCH

The main responsibility for relief is with the Government of India, but important subsidiary work must be performed, and in this
the Salvation Army is especially qualified to assist because it is in such close touch with what needs doing.
By helping the Self-Denial Fund one is helping the Salvation Army to relieve the sufferings of these poor people.

Salvation Army Work in Gujarat :: By MAJOR DAYASAGAR

THE story of the commencement
and growth of the work of the Salvation Army in Gujarat, India, is a fascinating one. It was in the year 1881 that Commissioner Booth-Tucker, accompanied by one of his earliest converts, a talented and devoted Singapore by the name of Werasooriya, visited this great Province.

The story is still told by the common people of how he held some powerful meetings in a certain village, and finding the inhabitants
slow to yield and become true followers of Christ, he and his Singapore companion told them they would fast and pray for them till
they came to God in true repentance; then left the place, and retiring into a secluded spot about a mile away from the village. After they had gone, the hearts of many of the villagers smote them, and they began to wonder whether these two men were really going without food and sleep, and they determined to fast and pray till the village
yielded. Slowly and sadly the four
women retraced their steps and told

to eat. They prepared a simple meal
and making their way through the tall jungle grass, anxiously listened
for some sound that would guide
them, when they heard someone groaning. They concluded it must be the sadhus, and following in that direction found both of them kneeling and lost in earnest prayer, under a large tree. It was a place where the cattle were wont to rest
at noon, and the women noticed
that insects had bitten their bare feet from which the blood was still ozoning, and yet these strange teachers appeared to be quite unconscious of any pain. What the people had surmised was true. Neither of them had partaken of any food
for two days. Timidly and reverently the women drew their attention
and offering their food, begged them
to eat. It was kindly refused, and they were told they were determined to fast and pray till the village
yielded. Slowly and sadly the four
women retraced their steps and told

their neighbours the result of their search. The news quickly spread from house to house, and then to the village and beyond by word of mouth.
The people were mightily moved
by a deep emotion, and flocked to the spot where the women had found the two praying. Seeing the assembled crowd, they stood up, and
with an eloquence born of a deep desire for the Salvation of souls, in simple and telling words, urged
them to give up their sins and yield to God. Hundreds did; and all through the night, prayer and praise
were heard from all parts of the village.

The two soon moved on to other villages; and upwards of a hundred
of the new converts, forgetting all
their temporal affairs, followed them
and took part in their meetings.
Wherever they went there were
awakenings and thus the first foundations of the Army's work in Gujarat were "rightly and truly" laid.
It was not long before the new converts had to face bitter opposition

and persecution, and many testify
still of how they weathered the storm.

The success of the Commissioner's efforts made him anxious to bring out reinforcements; hence he returned to England, and his office was succeeded by some twenty Officers
coming out.

At first the Army Officers were greatly handicapped owing to the
newness to the country and inasmuch of its language and customs.

Many of these difficulties have now been overcome. The object of their efforts was to bring the people
to God, and so like the great Yan Tree known as the Kabir in the River Narbada, about twenty miles from Broach, which is said to have originated with a twig that the Saint Kabir used as a tooth brush,
but afterwards grew until it covered acres of land and bore over 300 stems, the work of the Army
has wonderfully increased, as has
also the vitality of its activities.

LATEST NEWS of SALVATION

FIGHTING ON THE FIELD.

GREAT VICTORIES

Are Being Won at St. John I. Corps
Twenty-five Soldiers During Last Month—Two Testimonies

We have said farewell to Ensign and Mrs. Condie, who have done splendid work at St. John I. and who are now in charge of the new Soldiers' Hostel in this City, and we have welcomed Adjutant and Mrs. Ursuli.

During the stay of our former Officers, God's power was manifested and souls were converted. Praise God, the fire continues to burn. During the past month we have had the joy of seeing twenty-five souls seeking forgiveness and re-creating themselves for a fuller and better service.

The past week-end has brought to the heart of every Salvationist great joy over victories won. On Sunday night seven souls sought Salvation, amongst them an old gentleman who was led to the Mercy Seat by his son. Also a man and his wife and three young girls.

During the week two men came to the Mercy Seat. One had been a backslider for fifteen years. He had been called to foreign service but kept putting it off, and eventually backslid. His fifteen years away from God was the worst he ever spent. He testified to having given up all for the Master's service and is determined to follow where He leads.

A returned soldier told how when wounded in the battle field, he cried to God to spare his life, and if God did he promised to love and serve Him. Like others he failed to keep his vows, and his life since had been nothing but a sorrowful and unhappy one. But God has taken him back into His fold and he testifies to the fact that with God's help he will "fight the battle through" and do what he can to extend the Kingdom.

FOUR BANDSMEN

Are Welcomed Back From Overseas at Peterboro

The Peterboro Temple Band have had the pleasure of welcoming home a number of their members from overseas in the persons of Bandsmen J. James (Saxophone), E. Fort (Baritone), W. Thompson (Soprano), and H. Payton (solo cornet). All these comrades have proved God's saving and keeping power during their period overseas and have returned better and more determined to do their best for God and the uplifting of humanity.

Bandsman J. Richardson has also returned from Saskatoon—S. J. R.

ST. THOMAS, ONT.

God has richly blessed us at St. Thomas this last few weeks. We have had good meetings led by Adjutant and Mrs. Ash. People are being blessed by their helpful talks on Holiness. Converts are getting into uniform.

Last Sunday we welcomed Brother and Sister McMillan and three children from Scotland. Two backsliders returned to God—A. C.

VISITED LUMBER CAMPS

Officers From Melfort Conduct Meetings Near Hudson Bay Junction

On Wednesday, March 12th, Ensign Fowler and Lieutenant Parnham and myself left Melfort for the lumber camps near Hudson Bay

War Cry Brigade of Grand Falls (Nfld.)

They are a devoted band of workers, says Commandant Hiscock, and have recently increased the War Cry and Young Soldiers sales by 50 copies of each paper, making 150 Cris and 100 Young Soldiers weekly. The names are as follows: Top row—Mrs. Stratton, Mrs. Brown, Guard Leader E. Andrews. Second row—Mrs. Downton, Mrs. Commandant Hiscock, Mrs. Vatcher.

Junction. This experience was new to the Officers, but I felt quite at home because previous to my conversion I worked in the lumber camps. The Ensign led meetings with the boys and did her best to get them to sing. The Lieutenant sang several solos on the line of home and mother, and it did my heart good to see some of the men, one in particular, who sat near the edge of his bunk with closed eyes, tears streaming down his cheeks, sing with all his heart, "Oh, where is my boy to-night?"

We had a blessed time. It was good to hear the men shout as we left their bunkhouse, "Come again," S. L. Heherington.

FOUR GRANDCHILDREN

Of Two Seekers Who Kneled at Mercy Seat in Nelson Were Dedicated to God and the Army

On March 26th Brigadier McLean conducted the meeting at Nelson. He gave a talk on "Family Circles with and without Christ," and we had the joy of seeing two souls seek the Mercy Seat.

Recently Adjutant Melkie dedicated the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood, grandchildren of the late Adjutant Melkie.

We have welcomed Brother Buchanan back, who has been overseas. A welcome tea was provided by the Officers and Comrades of the Corps. Captain Roe, who had just returned from the front, was also with us and acted as chairman for the evening. Adjutant Melkie gave out Comrade's welcome back, speaking on behalf of the Officers and Comrades of the Corps. Brother Buchanan also spoke. He has been appointed Corps Sergeant-Major—M. Hodge, Captain.

CRANBROOK

Brigadier McLean visited Cranbrook on Wednesday, March 26th. A good crowd gathered. We had the joy of seeing six souls seeking Jesus.

SCORE OF CHINAMEN

Attend Meeting at Lethbridge and Listen With Interest to Cheng Hem

Thank God for another good week-end at Lethbridge (March 23rd and 24th). Although the Adjutant and the Band of twenty-three

War Cry Brigade of Grand Falls (Nfld.)

Bandmen were visiting Macleod all day on Sunday, Mrs. Adjutant Hamilton, Local Officers and Comrades had victorious times in the fight for the Lord.

The afternoon praise meeting was led by Sergeant-Major Mandy, assisted by Treasurer Bullock. The jail service was much blessed to 130 prisoners. Mrs. Hamilton, Envoy and Mrs. Dawson and Sister Rogers took part.

In the night meeting the Spirit of God took hold of the sinners. In the audience were twenty Chinamen listened to their converted brother, Cheng Hem, who sang and gave his testimony. Dad Haynes also gave a bright testimony. Mrs. Hamilton spoke briefly and our hearts rejoiced to see six souls at the Mercy Seat—H. D.

WELCOMED TROOPS

Edmonton I. Band Played for Two Hours When Battalion Arrived

On Saturday, March 22nd, the first Edmonton Battalion (the 49th) to reach home as a unit, arrived in the city from overseas, and a half-holiday having been proclaimed by the Mayor, in order that the citizens might give them a fitting welcome, the No. 1 Band was out in nearly full strength, and played for about two hours.

On Sunday Bandsman Cole and Treasurer Holmes led the meeting at No. 1 as the Officers and Young People's workers were attending the Council.

PRINCE RUPERT

Envoy Tomlinson was with us at Prince Rupert on March 30th. He has been laboring amongst the natives up the Skeena River for some years.

Envoy Berg has returned from his visit to the United States. The work is going ahead. Our Soldiers and Comrades are faithful attendants at every meeting—inside and out.

BERMUDA NEWS

Memorial Service For Late Mr. Brigadier Barr—A. E. Barr Suddenly Stricken—Hall Night of Prayer Held

A united memorial service was held at Hamilton Corps (Bermuda) for Mrs. Brigadier Barr on March 23rd. There was a good attendance. Special tributes were paid to Mrs. Barr's sympathy, earnestness and thoughtfulness by the different Officers, and at the close of the meeting two souls knelt at the Mercy Seat for pardon.

While at St. George's united meeting on Monday, March 23rd, we came over the house to the Galway that Bandsman A. Firth of Hamilton, had been suddenly called home to his reward. The Bandsman who was at the meeting on the Sunday afternoon and assured the Adjutant that all was well with his soul. He was buried with full Salvation Army honors.

A half-night of prayer was held recently at St. George's and so much benefit obtained by those present, that it is decided to hold a united half-night of prayer each month at every Corps—Marie Hinton, Ensign.

TWENTY-SEVEN SOLDIERS

Added to the Roll at Wyehwood During Past Eight Months

During the week-end Ensign and Mrs. Snowden fared well after a very successful stay. Although only with us for eight months a great work has been accomplished and Locals and Soldiers throughout the week-end paid great tributes to their hard work and ability to make things move in the right direction.

During the last two months many souls have been won for God and the greater percentage of them have been made into fighting Soldiers. Some twenty-seven Chinamen in all have been added to the roll. The finances of every branch of the Corps are in splendid condition while the Cartridges have been increased weekly to a record in the history of the Corps. The Quarters have been refurbished throughout.

Our prayers and good wishes follow them to Riverdale where we believe, in God's strength, they will shine, in God's strength, they will shine.

A hearty welcome awaits our new Officers, Adjutant and Mrs. Gress from St. John, N.B.

ANNIVERSARY MEETING

Petrolia Corps recently celebrated its 35th Anniversary. The meetings were conducted by Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Rawling and Adjutant H. Ritchie, and were well attended throughout. One soul sought God on Sunday night.

On Monday night a good musical programme was given. Mr. F. Street was chairman. Mrs. Vanhook of Port Hope was soloist. Mrs. Ritchie also came over for the W. J. S.

Lieutenant-Colonel Bell at Toronto Central Holiness Meeting Points Out Rule for Christ

The interest in the Central Holiness meeting at the Temple is being kept up as was evidenced by the attendances on Friday, April 4th. The singing was bright and hearty throughout, and included a song by the Cadets and a solo by Cadet-Barnum.

Major McEwen led a short Testimony meeting which is always so prominent a feature of these meetings. A number of bright, pointed and definite testimonies to full Salvation were given.

The Bible reading by Captain Thomas of East Toronto, was followed by Colonel Bell's address on "The Christian's Revenge," his text being "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good," Rom. 12:21. Attention was drawn to such Bible examples as Joseph, David and Paul, who fulfilled this command. Curses were shown to be like a blooming flying back and like the sender.

A short prayer meeting plotted by Adjutant Owen, of the Temple, resulted in four souls at the Cross. The chorus "Sing a Glad Hosanna for the Victory Over Sin" rang through the building in the closing moments, bringing to a close another of these soul-stirring holiness meetings.

On the following Friday some good testimonies were given. A Sister praised God for deliverance from all sin, and a Brother testified to cleansing from the selfishness which was spoiling his influence.

Colonel Bell spoke on "A wonderful testimony" referring to Enoch of whom it was said that he pleased God. He suggested that there are three kinds of people in the world—self-pleasers, men-pleasers and God-pleasers. It is the latter type whom God delights to honour.

Our great example is Jesus Christ who lived not to please Himself but His Heavenly Father who had sent Him. The Colonel urged all present who were living to please self to give themselves over to God and invited all to join in the consecration of themselves as they sang "None of self but all of Thee." Four surrenders were made—A. W.

WELLAND, ONT.

On Saturday, April 5th, we had the joy of seeing a young man give his heart to God (A returned soldier). He has attended all operations and meetings since, giving a good testimony of the saving and keeping power of Jesus Christ. On Sunday night a backslider returned to the fold.

Officers are Captain Bridge, Lieutenant Baker—H. C. L.

"HALLELUJAH ROCKY"

Tells Thrilling Story of His Conversion to Large Audiences at Nanapan and Ogdensburg Mary Seeks the Salvation Army Aid Given

Someone expressed a doubt the other day as to whether "Hallelujah Rocky," whose story is now running in "The War Cry," is a real personage. They were evidently under the impression that the incidents related are concocted in the author's mind. We are glad to state, however, that "Rocky" is a real, live Local Officer of the Salvation Army, and that the happenings recorded are absolutely true. Moreover, our old friend is just as zealous for God and souls after 34 years of the Salvation light as he was in the early days. Recently, he paid a visit to Nanapan and in the meetings he concluded 19 persons came to the Penitent Form. He also went to Ogdensburg in New York State and spoke to crowded audiences in the Army Citadel there. The "Republican Journal" says:

"Hallelujah Rocky thrilled a large audience last night with stories of the first four months of his religious experience. The Rev. Davies made an ideal chairman. Captain Rhodes and some of the Soldiers from Brockville were present."

As a result of these meetings 27 seekers came forward.

ST. JOHN III.

We are having some very interesting meetings at St. John III. Since Ensign and Mrs. Major fared well, Sergeant-Major Griffiths has been leading us on and God has blessed us. Eleven souls have come to God. One testified that he had been an infidel for 20 years. He got the real light and is standing out and out for God.

Adjutant and Mrs. Wells arrived on Thursday. A good crowd welcomed them at night.

Ensign Condie, Sergeant-Major Sparks, and several of the Comrades of No. III, spoke. Commandant Sheard closed and spoke. One soul came forward.

ELIVEN SOULS

Seek Christ—Cartridges Increasing

Last Sunday the Cadets attached to Chester (Toronto) Corps fared well. A number of Comrades referred to the blessing they have been during the day.

Ensign P. Ham was in charge of the meetings and gave stirring appeals. Major McEwen was present at night and gave a short address.

During the prayer meeting eleven souls surrendered to God, the majority being young people.

Every department of the Corps is in a healthy condition and the Soldiers Cartridges are increasing. The total for last week was thirty-eight dollars.

Two Comrades who have been overseas were welcomed home last week.

ARMY SERVICES

Are Proving of Much Benefit to Inmates of Okala Prison Farm—Many get Converted—Prayer Aid Given

The work done by the Army in the Okala prison at Vancouver is a very vital thing, and is much appreciated by both the Officials and the prisoners themselves. Many have been converted as a result.

Every Sunday from one to two o'clock, a service is held there and the meeting room is generally filled. These men and women are indeed a willing and appreciative audience, and in those little gatherings we have some blessed times.

Valuable service is rendered by Sisters Cuffin and Quayle who go regularly every Sunday to the prison and bring cheer and blessing to the prisoners by their singing and playing.

Apart from the spiritual side of this work there is the temporal side which in a sense is just as important and in every service the men and women are invited to come and see us when they get out and this invitation is accepted by a number, who receive timely aid until we can secure a better position for them.

Then too, advice is freely given, and the prisoners are made to feel that if they have no other friend, the Salvation Army will be there to them, and will assist them whenever and wherever possible. Even while doing their term they very often find for the help that has been extended to them, and as was the case last week, where a prisoner broke his glasses, and we saw to the War Cris are also distributed every Sunday and are eagerly read by those who are behind prison bars—E. N. A.

RENFREW

We are glad to welcome our new officers, Captain Stokes and Captain Chittenden, who arrived on Thursday evening, March 20th, a Demonstration was given.

We spent a joyful evening, the Hall being crowded. At the close the Juniors received their prizes for attendance at Company meeting.

Sergeant-Major and Mrs. McKee from Ottawa, H. took charge of the week-end meetings with our Officers were at Congress.

EARSLEY COURT (TORO.)

We welcomed Captain Parsons on Sunday last. A large crowd was present all day. The Captain's message was well received and many were convicted of sin. Special music was rendered by Band and Singers. Record collections.

THE Home League of West Toronto is still on the lookout for the best way to help others. On Tuesday, Apr. 1, we held our annual tea for the members and their husbands. This was presided over by Mrs. Commissioner Richards, who was accompanied by Mrs. Colonel McMillan and Mrs. Lieutenant-Colonel

Secretary Mrs. A. Sedgwick, in a report to Mrs. Colonel Chandler, gives the encouraging news that there are now thirty-three Home League members at Hunsville. The League has been of great assistance to the Corps by helping it financially and assisting in many ways to make the Quarters more comfortable. The spiritual needs of the members are being well looked after and the real object of the League is not overlooked, namely, that of helping the women.

man, a war-scarred veteran and a stranger in a strange city, when after a hard day's labour he returned to his room and found it decorated with flags of the allied nations, and bustling with the green of old Ireland occupying a prominent place among the decorations, in commemoration of a special occasion, for like the patron saint of Ireland, he was born on the 17th of March. Tears came to his eyes as he gazed about the room and his mind wandered back to his mother still in the old country and the good old times of his boyhood days in the old home town across the sea where, "Though strangers seek and flout it, And even jeer its name, It has a charm about it, No other town can claim."

This in general is a word picture of what occurred Monday evening at the Red Shield Hostel when the young man, recently returned from service overseas came "home" and found his room gaily decorated in commemoration of his birthday. The "mother" in his instance was Mrs. Captain Ashby, who realizes something of what it means to be far from home among strangers, particularly on days when a person's thoughts are apt to dwell on thoughts of the childhood home. She is always seeking an opportunity to cheer those who make the Hostel their home.

This is the spirit that permeates the Hostel, and it was said at the formal opening of the institution will be a blessing to the community. Chatham News.

and Otway. Mrs. Commissioner Mapp often comes to our Home League meetings and her visits are appreciated very much.

Both at Easter and Christmas the League had the pleasant duty of packing and sending off 38 boxes to our boys overseas. One hundred and fifty pairs of socks have been knitted and sent during the year.

As at other Corps, our gatherings were prevented by the epidemic, but our members were by no means idle, many a kind act being done by them. In some cases, hours were spent with the sick and those in a critical condition. One family could not understand how the Army Sisters could be so kind and expect nothing for it. Seed was sown during that trying time that only Easter will reveal.

When the Red Shield Drive was on, our League looked after one of the flimsy.

We are hoping in the near future to give a supper to returned soldiers and their wives.

We have a band of loving, united women, who are always willing to do anything to help one another or others who come within their reach, who are justly proud of them—E. R. B.

The Dovercourt Home League held a sale of work on Wednesday, April 2nd. This was presided over by Mrs. Commissioner Richards, who introduced to the audience Mrs. Albert Ogden, who, after giving a beautiful address, declared the Richards and Mrs. Ogden, and all who had so nobly come to the help of the Home League, for their services.

The Dovercourt Band furnished the music, and rendered some very beautiful selections during the sale, and the whole affair went off in splendid order, the result nothing about $150.

It is noted in connection with the League that, as well as our own good women, a number of outside ladies have joined the branch in this district, and are not only very energetic in working for its interests, but have expressed themselves as having received much good to their own hearts and much blessing by any efforts they have put forth.

Adjutant Eastwell and Captain Payton co-operate with Mrs. Brigadier Miller in putting forth every effort to make the Home League in this district a great success.

On Wednesday, March 12th, the Home League of Portage La Prairie gave a supper to the returned boys of the city, their wives and sweethearts. A very enjoyable evening was spent. The tables were spread with good things and very prettily decorated.

The League Sisters deserve credit for the way everything was done. We hope to have a sale of work soon.

The Officers, Captain and Mrs. Larman take a great interest and a sale of work will be held very shortly.

The Springfield, N.S., Home League members recently held their annual banquet and sale of work. The Drift Hall was taken for this event and was a busy place from morning till late at night. The sale commenced at four p.m. and supper was served from five p.m. to ten p.m. There was a continuous stream of people and soon the stalls began to look empty.

During the evening gifts by the Life-Saving Scouts and Guards, songs and recitations and selections by a string band and by the Scott's Band were given. Sister Eva Smith of Moncton gave several violin solos. Adjutant Bird presided.

The sum of $225 was realized. Secretary Mrs. D. Cox and her fine band of workers are to be congratulated. During the year ending February, 1919, a great deal has been accomplished, especially in connection with the building of the new Citadel. The chairs, organ and song books all having been purchased by the League.

The financial statement, read at a recent meeting by the Secretary, showed a total income for the year of $602.35, with a balance of $193, which is to be spent in painting the Citadel.

Captain and Mrs. Bordas are now in charge of the Corps—Mrs. Ensign Davis.

HEARTY WELCOME HOME

Given to all Returned Men in Sunday Night Meeting at Temple—Major McEwan Leads—Stirring Service

The first Corps in the Training College Division to be visited by Major McEwan was the Temple. The meetings throughout the day were of a wideawake, enthusiastic, straight Salvation character.

In the Halliness meeting the Major took for his topic "The Unseen Captain" and the testimony meeting which followed the lesson was characterized by definite, pointed testimonies from the different Corps along the lines of the Major's talk. The meeting closed with a conversation song, and one dear sister gave herself fully to God at the Holiness Table.

Throughout the day the Major was assisted by Captain Sharp and a Brigade of Cadets from the Training College and in the afternoon the Cadets sang together—"Salvation is the best thing in the world" after which each spoke, giving her name, the Corps she entered, training from, and her testimony. Amongst the number who testified were Private Hoe and Sergeant Major Barsby who have recently returned from overseas. Captain Sharp gave the address. One young lad came and sought Salvation.

A feature of the night meeting was the hearty welcome home given to all the returned men in the meeting. Private Hoe and Mr. Dermot, who returned Saturday night, were called to the platform and both spoke of their feelings at receiving such a hearty welcome. All the returned men in the Hall were asked to stand and words of appreciation for their sacrifices for King and country were spoken. While everyone present stood while the band played "God Save the King."

After a good prayer meeting, led by Adjutant Owen, which resulted in three seekers at the Cross, we finished up with testimony and praise.

HELPFUL CAMPAIGN

Conducted by Adjutant Trickey at Lansdowne Corps—A Band Being Formed

A very helpful two weeks campaign was conducted at Lansdowne (Toronto) recently by Adjutant Trickey. Special meetings were held every night, and good crowds attended. Two seekers came forward on the first Sunday and one on the second.

On Wednesday, April 9th, the Eastcourt Band gave a Musical Festival which was greatly enjoyed. A Band is now being organized at Lansdowne under the leadership of Bandmaster Petrie. It already contains seven members and is proving a great help in the meetings.

Ensign Mabb and Lieutenant Evans are the Officers in charge and steady progress is being made.

BONAVIDA

We have said good-bye to Adjutant and Mrs. Earle, and have welcomed Adjutant and Mrs. Tuck. On Wednesday night, March 19th, the Adjutant gave a stirring service. The Hall was packed and the sum of ninety-five dollars was raised which will go to pay the bill for Hall and Quarters during the past year.

On Sunday, March 23rd, the evening were full of interest. The singing was led at night with

THE WAR CRY

Halifax Red Shield Drive

LAUNCHED AT AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING IN THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

Maternity Hospital Scheme is Presented to Public with Endorsement of Medical Profession and Leading Citizens—Campaign Off to a Good Start

THE Red Shield Campaign "Drive" for $150,000 for the erection of a Maternity Home and Soldier's and Sailor's Reconstruction work, got off (says "The Herald") to a forthright start at a public meeting held in the Majestic theatre. Two offers, one of which was essentially a pledge, of strong financial contributions, announced by D. Macgillivray, treasurer of the campaign, created great excitement amongst the auditors and raised the enthusiasm 100 degrees for making this "drive" as successful as all the others to which the people of Halifax have contributed most generously.

Leading Citizens Attend

In spite of the uninviting weather the Majestic theatre was well filled with citizens of both sexes, and on the platform were leading citizens in all the professions and businesses. William D. Macgillivray, Dr. Fraser Harris, Major Crichton, Captain Steele and D. Macgillivray. The Mayor's introductory remarks were characteristic in frankness in declaring that as he put it "it is a disgrace that Halifax has not a maternity hospital—I mean a maternity hospital of the kind for which the campaign for $150,000 has been instituted." He suggested that the public should give and then double that amount. "For," he said, "speaking strictly as a medical man, there is a crying need for such a humane institution in Halifax."

Dr. G. H. Murphy followed. He elaborated the history of hospital accommodation in Halifax; and, speaking solely from the medical point of view, signified the profound need of a maternity hospital in the community. Coming to the essential point of his appeal, he observed: "I do not think that there is any more important, so vital, so lying at the very foundations of society as the care of mother and children. It is due to every child, legitimate and illegitimate, that the State or community give each a fair start in meeting and combatting the evil and unsympathetic world into which it is born. The outright and insistent recommendation of the necessity for such a hospital in Halifax, by the local physicians, was, he assured the audience, sufficient reason for the people to give generously."

Two Important Questions

Dr. Fraser Harris was brief but pointed. He asked two questions and answered them—briefly but tellingly. He asked, why do we want a maternity hospital in Halifax, and why should we support the institution in this undertaking? To the first question Dr. Harris answered that the whole body of physicians in the community believed absolutely in the crying necessity of such a hospital in Halifax. To the second question, Dr. Harris replied that the Salvation Army has thirteen maternity hospitals in Canada, one of which is in Halifax, on Tower road, and the successful conduct of these hospitals is proof that the Salvation Army is not trying out an experiment in asking for $150,000 to build and equip a large first-rate maternity hospital. The Army knows how.

Captain Steele made a plea for contributions to the drive rather on the side of the soldier's and sailor's reconstruction work.

He said that he had witnessed the sacrifices of our fighting lads overseas, and he felt that in view of these great sacrifices it was the duty of our citizens to return thanks for them in a practical and humane way, as by giving liberally to the Red Shield campaign fund.

It was left to D. Macgillivray to elect the audience, and he did so in a double way. He announced that Mr. Caviechi of the Bedford Construction Company, together with 23 employees of the company had met with him in the Board of Trade rooms and besides contributing a total of $200 themselves, had pledged to go amongst the 200 employees of the company and to urge them to give $10 per man.

Red Hot Enthusiasm

This statement created considerable enthusiasm, which went to the red hot point when Mr. Macgillivray immediately stated that "a leading citizen had pledged himself to contribute to the maternity hospital fund $15,000, provided the city government and the Provincial government each contributed $25,000."

In his characteristic oratorical style, for which his succinctness, pointedness and practicalness, he is unique, Mr. Macgillivray declared that "we must not fall back on the shafts, and let up effort, though the war is over. Patriotic and humane work still remain to be done; and we must do everything we can for the safety, comfort and security of mothers." His statements and his own appeals were eloquent and handled the drive with abounding enthusiasm.

In an editorial note, the Echo, which also reports the meeting, says: "There is nobody who will think of denying the importance of this 'drive,' nor the necessity of realizing its objective. Despite the veiled disbelief of the Law Amendments Committee of the Legislature, Halifax has had an awakening of her civic conscience. It is being recognized that she has been criminally neglectful of human life, particularly of child life, and that it is time to alter this state of things."

The successful issue of the Red Shield Drive for money to construct and equip a large maternity hospital will be a big factor in lessening the deaths due to preventable causes."

At what is described as "the largest and most representative meeting of women held in Dartmouth" it was unanimously decided to support the scheme and that the women of the town should at once organize to help make the Drive a success. Mrs. Bourns, president of the Victorian Order of Nurses, was appointed chairman, and Mrs. Hardy, secretary.

ST. JOHN HOSTEL

Is Formally Opened and Dedicated at Meeting Presided Over by Mr. F. A. Dykeman—His Worship Mayor, Hayes Gives an Address

The Military Hostel at St. John, N.B., was opened several weeks ago in order to meet the demand for looking after returning soldiers and their dependants. In order to give citizens an opportunity of inspecting the premises a meeting was called on Wednesday, April 2nd, at which Mr. F. A. Dykeman, of the Rotary Club, presided.

Has Not Swerved

On being introduced by Ensign Best, the chairman said that it was not very long ago when it was the universal custom to "guy" the Salvation Army, but that day is dead. Now there is not an institution that is doing a better work for humanity, doing it humbly, willingly and without hope for earthly reward. As one looks back over the years it will be seen that the organization which had for its fundamental character the spirit of service has not swerved from that purpose since its inception.

In every phase of social service from the reclamation of the loafer and wastrel to the civil re-establishment of the returning hero from the battlefields, the Salvation Army is first to serve, and so the Rotary Club, of which he is a member, had considered it an honour when it was called upon to direct the recent local drive in connection with the Red Shield campaign.

His Worship, Mayor Hayes, stated that the Salvation Army arrived in the city of St. John about the same time that he did, 36 years ago, and since that time he has always admired the institution for the excellent work which they have accomplished in the various branches of activity. In his succinctness, pointedness and practicalness, he is unique, Mr. Macgillivray declared that "we must not fall back on the shafts, and let up effort, though the war is over. Patriotic and humane work still remain to be done; and we must do everything we can for the safety, comfort and security of mothers." His statements and his own appeals were eloquent and handled the drive with abounding enthusiasm.

In an editorial note, the Echo, which also reports the meeting, says: "There is nobody who will think of denying the importance of this 'drive,' nor the necessity of realizing its objective. Despite the veiled disbelief of the Law Amendments Committee of the Legislature, Halifax has had an awakening of her civic conscience. It is being recognized that she has been criminally neglectful of human life, particularly of child life, and that it is time to alter this state of things."

Desire to Serve

Captain Alfred Steele said that in taking on the new responsibilities of caring for war veterans returning to their homes, or temporarily out of a home, the Army approached the work with a due sense of the magnitude of the task and the one predominating desire to serve. To the many returned soldiers present he pledged the support of the Salvation Army in all their endeavours, and the friendship of the institution wherever they may go.

Captain Still also addressed the meeting. Among the unusual numbers on the programme were selections by a string band composed of Life-Saving Guards, a vocal solo by H. H. by Mrs. Ensign Condie, a vocal solo by Mrs. Adjutant Best, a piano duet by Sisters Condie and Harding, a Victorian Order of Nurses, was appointed chairman, and Mrs. Hardy, secretary.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Self-Denial Week

NEXT week the Territory of Canada West enters upon its annual Week of Self-Denial. In order that the most may be got out of the effort it is necessary that the original and underlying idea of the scheme should be borne in mind.

This is that it is primarily a season when every Salvationist should deny himself or herself of something which means the saving of money, and that the money so saved should be given to God's cause.

There is no reason why friends should not be asked to join in the effort; it is of all round advantage that they should, provided its nature and scope are made perfectly clear to them. But it cannot be too strongly emphasized that the real success of Self-Denial Week depends upon the extent to which it is entered into by our own people.

1. It makes all the difference between its being an irksome "hog" and a time which will be so rich in personal blessing that its yearly return will be hailed with delight.

2. There would be an astonishing increase in the total if every man, woman and child within our ranks were to go without all they could for the week and give the money saved to the Fund.

3. Nothing gives the Army's appeal to its friends the strength that is imparted to it by knowledge that Salvationists are denying themselves to help the cause.

What Shall I Give?

THE question of what they shall give to the Self-Denial Fund is no doubt agitating the minds of not a few of our people throughout the country. Some perhaps may be lamenting that they are not in a position to give the financial aid they would like to, nor are they able to devote much time to collecting.

We would pass on a reminder in the first place, that the principle upon which this effort has been established is that all should do their best, no matter how small it may seem, and that the glorious results of the past have been the sum total of many little gifts, rather than due to the few larger donations.

But there is yet another way in which many may and should contribute—it is by giving themselves! Indeed, if this is the gift which God requires, no other will be accepted. Obedience is still better than sacrifice.

There will be found a Candidate's coupon on page twelve. If the call has come, obedience is the only safe path to follow. Disobedience is sin and will lead to spiritual ruin.

Pray and Prepare!

IF one thing is more likely to be overlooked than another, it is the need of getting ready for a Spiritual Awakening. How often it is found that the people who are praying and beseeching God to revive His work are themselves looking to the coming of such a visitation to put their own spiritual houses in order, instead of first of all, seeing that they are fit and ready vessels to be used by God to carry on such a work as that they pray for. It is not God-honouring to plead for a condition of things to continue which would act as a hindrance to the workings of the Spirit, whether it be in the case of individuals, Churches or Corps.

Neither, is it exercising ordinary common-sense. Even the man who sows wheat will make provision for reaping a crop commensurate with the seed sown, and it shows but poor faith for men to sow spiritual seed and not to hold themselves ready to reap the crop which they profess to expect.

It is the prayer of faith which reaches God and moves His arm; but "faith without works is dead"—a body without a soul—the shell without the kernel. To make faith alive and effectual, it must be accompanied by consistent action. Indeed, divorced from such, it is no more faith than the shell, without the kernel, is a nut.

Such briefly summarized, was the charge of the Commissioner to the Officers and Soldiers, and he bade them open their eyes to the great possibilities before them and to go in with heart and soul to make the most of the present opportunity for blessing, helping and influencing for good many thousands of our fellow citizens.

A Call to a New Crusade

COMMISSIONER RICHARDS OUTLINES PLANS FOR AN INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN OF WELCOME, RECONSTRUCTION, AND SOUL-SAVING

Inspiring Series of Councils for Officers and Soldiers Held at Toronto, Hamilton, and Stratford.

MAINLY for the purpose of outlining the Salvation Army's plans for the Reconstruction Campaign, the Commissioner and Chief Secretary met the Officers and Soldiers of Toronto and Hamilton on Tuesday and Thursday last week.

An Intense Campaign

The Army's splendid work amongst the troops of the Empire and our Allies has called forth the admiration of the peoples of the world, pointed out the Commissioner; now we must bend our energies to the task of winning home the boys from the front and helping in the problems of civil re-establishment. During the next few months an intense campaign, in which every Salvationist will take part, is to be carried on, the need of sanctified patriotism being as great now as during the period of hostilities. From the time the troops arrive at the port of landing till they reach their homes and are settled again in civilian life the Salvation Army will have first claim upon the time and attention of all in our ranks until the need for it has passed. The unprecedented conditions with which we are faced at the present time call us to strenuous effort on the behalf of the soldiers and their dependants and we must accept it as a call from God to be up and doing.

Such briefly summarized, was the charge of the Commissioner to the Officers and Soldiers, and he bade them open their eyes to the great possibilities before them and to go in with heart and soul to make the most of the present opportunity for blessing, helping and influencing for good many thousands of our fellow citizens.

COMMISSIONER HOWARD IN WINNIPEG

Opening of the Sir Douglas Haig Hostel by General Ketchen—Record Attendance at Great Public Meetings in Pantage's Theatre—Thirty-five Cadets Dedicated for Service

COUNCIL FOR OFFICERS WAS A SPIRITUAL FEAST

THE VISIT to Winnipeg of Commissioner Howard, though most deeply appreciated, was altogether too brief; it was indeed, as some one was heard to remark, but a "passing call." This, however, only makes the results of his coming among us all the more remarkable. The memory of the Commissioner's previous visit is still fresh in the minds of Salvationists, and notwithstanding that over two years have elapsed, those present at the meetings on that occasion have been recollections of how God used him to His honour and glory; thus spiritual expectation rose high when it was announced that he would again visit Canada West.

Commissioner Howard, who was accompanied by Brigadier Joy, Major Tudge, and Captain Culshaw, arrived early on Saturday morning, and were met, and warmly received at the depot, by Commissioner Sowton, Colonel Turner, and a number of leading Officers.

Although the visit was practically for the week-end only, the programme that had been arranged was a very full one. There was a record attendance at the great public meetings at the Pantage's Theatre, and the Commissioner was enabled to rise to the occasion in a wonderful manner, and his presence and messages made a profound and lasting impression. All privileged to sit under his ministry were inspired to mount to a higher plane of service in the cause of Christ. On Saturday afternoon Commissioner Howard delivered an address at the official opening of the new Sir Douglas Haig Hostel. Words fail to adequately describe the morning meeting conducted by him at the Citadel on the following day; truly it was a Holiness meeting indeed.

The afternoon gathering at the theatre was of a special and varied character. We were particularly favoured in having with us Colonel Nisani (Case) and Brigadier Anhalt (McIlwraith), who were among the devoted band of Officers who pioneered the Army's Work in India. At this meeting also, the 1918-19 Session of Cadets were Dedicated for Service by Commissioner Howard.

Upwards of fifteen hundred people attended at night, there being a capacity house. For over two hours on Monday morning the Officers of the Manitoba and Saskatchewan Divisions, and also from many parts of the Alberta Division, sat in Council under our revered Leader. This blessed spiritual feast went by altogether too quickly. It was a season when the Holy Ghost flooded the innermost recesses of the souls, hearts, and minds of the Commissioner's hearers, and they were inspired to do spiritual exploits.

OPENING OF HOSTEL

FOR the service in connection with the opening of the Sir Douglas Haig Hostel on the afternoon of Saturday, April 26, the auditorium of the Institution was by no means large enough, for many of the crowd of people who attended had to stand in the adjoining rooms and hallways. On the platform with Commissioner Howard, Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton, and Colonel and Mrs. Turner, were Brigadier-General H. B. D. Krehen, C.B., C.M.G., Officer Commanding Military District No. 10, and his Staff. General Ketchen had gladly acceded to the Commissioner's request for him to conduct the official opening of the splendid Hostel for returning soldiers. Among other prominent citizens present were Major Graham, Senior Chaplain for the Military District aforementioned, ex-Mayor Vaughn, President of the Returned Soldiers' Association; Alderman Wigginton, who represented Mayor Gray, also representatives of the Knights of Columbus and the Y.M.C.A. The 10th Garrison Depot Battalion Band furnished music and accompanied the singing of the opening song, "Stand up for Jesus," lined out by Colonel Turner.

This is the great mission of the Salvation Army, this is what it was raised up for and we must go "Onward to conquer the world with fire and blood" and not turn aside to any lesser work however admirable it may seem.

To save souls there must be the aim of every Salvationist, and every thing undertaken must have this end in view—the Salvation of the individual. In order to do this work we must recognize our utter dependence on God. Organization is good, ability to preach is good, education is good—but all these things fail to convert souls without God's blessing. "In days of old the prophets of Baal danced and shouted and cut themselves all day, vainly calling for the fire to consume the sacrifice, but when Elijah cried to God the devouring flame at once swept down."

The important thing then, said the Commissioner, was to establish and maintain contact with God in our work. One point he laid emphasis on as follows: "Stop dealing with people on behalf of God and talk to God on behalf of the people. The key of prayer unlocks the storehouse of God."

It is the prayer of faith which reaches God and moves His arm; but "faith without works is dead"—a body without a soul—the shell without the kernel, is a nut.

Such briefly summarized, was the charge of the Commissioner to the Officers and Soldiers, and he bade them open their eyes to the great possibilities before them and to go in with heart and soul to make the most of the present opportunity for blessing, helping and influencing for good many thousands of our fellow citizens.

When functioning the request, that I should be privileged to be present at the opening ceremony, with him I am and very delighted I am to be so.

Received Many Testimonies

The Commissioner went on to say that his words would be few. "For I shall have other opportunities of addressing you. I want to say, however, that I have been very much impressed since I left London with the many, many testimonies I have received of the work done by the Salvation Army during the great and terrible war just brought to a conclusion. Testimonies have reached me personally from the highest and best-known personages, but I appreciate most the testimony of the men themselves." (Applause)

Alderman Wigginton spoke on behalf of Mayor Gray, who was unable to be present, and in a neat little speech reminded the audience that they had reason to be thankful "that we have among us an Organization such as the Salvation Army, which can undertake work such as will be carried on in this Hostel." At this juncture Adjutant Merritt (Calgary) rendered a concertina solo entitled "Memories of Childhood."

MEETING A REAL NEED

Many Soldiers, With Wives and Families, Find the Hamilton Hotel Very Convenient

Some interesting and encouraging incidents, showing how the Hamilton Hotel is meeting a real need, were related to a "City" representative recently by Adjutant and Mrs. Poole, who are in charge of this institution.

Quite a number of men are now returning with their wives and families, and they are finding the Hotel very convenient until they can get settled in homes of their own.

One man stayed at the Hotel with his English bride and their little baby for a few days and then went to Niagara Falls. So impressed were they with the Salvation Army that they attended the Corps meetings on the Sunday following their arrival and told the Captain how much they appreciated all the kindnesses that had been shown to them.

An Irish family—consisting of a soldier, his wife and three boys—stayed at the Hotel for a week while searching for a house. The boys accompanied the Adjutant's children to Company meeting at the No. 1 Corps on Sunday and liked it so much that they came again after they got settled in their new home.

Another soldier, with a wife and five children, was very glad when he saw the Army uniform on arriving at Hamilton. "The missus has been carrying a lot ever since we left St. John as to how we would manage with the children until I secured a farm," he said. "Now it will be all right. I can my word I never had so many good friends in my life as I've had since meeting the Salvation Army."

The Hotel is crowded every week end and the boys all say they like it because of its homelike atmosphere, and the kindness and thoughtfulness of the Adjutant and his helpers, who do everything in their power to make the boys feel at home. Many of them speak in high praise of the work the Army has done overseas.

RIVERDALE VICTORIES

Campaign Conducted by Chaplain Captain McElhinney Helps Many New Officers Welcomed

On Thursday, April 10th, the Riverdale Band and Corps Comrades turned out in great force to welcome our new Officers, Ensign and Mrs. Snowden. Following the welcome addresses of the Adjutant and the main sections of the Corps activities, Chaplain-Captain McElhinney dedicated the Ensign and his wife under the colors.

Throughout the week-end the Ensign and Mrs. Snowden gripped the large audiences with their telling addresses and made a great impression with their intense earnestness and red hot Salvationism. At the conclusion of the Sunday night service when three souls knelt at the Mercy Seat, we had a triumphant halfeulhach march around the Hall.

The Campaign conducted by Captain-Chaplain McElhinney will long be remembered by the Comrades. During these meetings new light and blessing was received and many souls were helped into the Fountain. Every branch of the Corps has received help and inspiration, and more intense love for sinners and service to God and the Army will follow.

The Campaign closed with a half-night of prayer when three more souls were added to the large total for Salvation and Holiness. We are looking forward to great soul-stirring times in the open-air throughout the coming summer months.

PROMOTED TO GLORY

Sister Mrs. Bellamy, Humboldt

Our Sister (formerly Captain Mary Menzies in the early days of the Army in Canada) passed on to her reward Sunday morning at 8:15, March 16th, after a lengthy term of trouble and sickness. She lost a daughter, Viola, two years ago, also a son, Cromley, who was killed in action in August, 1917.

The funeral service was held in the Salvation Army Citadel, Humboldt, Sask. Major A. Goodwin, assisted by Adjutant Richardson, conducted it. The Major, having known our departed Comrade, paid a tribute to her devoted life as a Comrade and a Soldier. The deceased was in her 54th year.

Sister Nancy Smith, New Glasgow

The Salvation Army has lost an old and faithful warrior in the Promotion to Glory of Sister Nancy Smith, who lived to the ripe age of 84 years. She was one of New Glasgow's oldest Soldiers. The call to the Better Land came on February 23rd.

Our departed Comrade, for the last few years has been unable to do much active service owing to old age. Moreover she lived in the country about thirty miles from the Corps. She was laid to rest on February 24th. In the closing moments of life, she was able to say she was ready to meet Jesus.

Brother McDow, Dartmouth, N.S.

One of the oldest Soldiers of the Dartmouth Corps suffered keenly through the passing away of her husband on March 4th, 1919. Brother McDow was not a Soldier of the Corps but never attended any other place of worship. We are cheered to know that our brother was ready to meet his Maker because of his testimony before passing away.

Captain Bexton, the Corps Officer, was a constant visitor during our brother's sickness and it was then that he gave his heart to God, little thinking then that God so soon would call him home.

The funeral service was conducted by Captain and Mrs. Bexton—C. C.

Sister Legge, Garnish

Death has visited our Corps and taken from us Sister Hannah Legge, the wife of the Corps Sergeant-Major. Sister Legge was a Soldier for a number of years and also War Cry Sergeant and she will be greatly missed by all. After an illness of about four months on February 28th, she passed peacefully away to the Better Land.

The funeral service was conducted by Commandant Bruce. At night the Commandant conducted the memorial service—L. Shave.

Brother Ledrew, Change Islands

At the early age of 17 years' present Comrade was called to his Eternal Reward. Rupert Ledrew was enrolled as a Soldier in April 1918. He was a well-behaved, truthful, upright, young man, and a good Soldier. For a while he was unable to attend the meetings, but when able to be there his testimony was bright and hopeful. Death had no sting for him. During his last days on earth he was a inspiration and blessing to all who visited him, he had a firm faith in God and often quoted the text on the wall, "They that wait upon the Lord, etc." to his companions and others. He bore testimony to the comfort his hope in God brought him in his suffering. He said, "Ensign, my rest is in Heaven, my rest is not here. I shall soon enjoy that rest." To Mrs. Anthony he said, "I am just waiting for the call."

The singing of his dear mother and the Corps Sergeant-Major and his wife who took him when a child for their own was a source of strength to him when nearing the River. Filled with love to his Saviour he rejoiced to the last.

THE CALLS which have been made for Officers for all Branches of Work in the Salvation Army: REALIZATION OF THE RESPONSIBILITY which is mine for doing my part in saving the world.

AND ABOVE ALL THE CONSTRAINT OF THE love of Christ, shown by His dying for my sins.

HAVE CONVINCED ME I ought to offer myself as a Candidate for Training for this service.

PROGRESS AT DUNDAS

Twenty-Nine Seekers During Two Weeks—Bandsman Welcomed Home

Our new Officers at Dundas, Ensign and Mrs. Sanford, were given a hearty welcome on Sunday, March 10th.

On March 16th we held our Annual. God blessed the efforts for four and we had good meetings in the afternoon the children took to the platform. The singing of the primary class under Sister Mrs. Brule was of great interest. At night the Young People's Locals took charge.

On Monday night a musical service and the presentation of the prize took place. The meetings of March 22nd and 23rd were in charge of the Locals. The Officers being at the Councils in Toronto.

On March 30th we welcomed home from overseas one of our Bandsman, Corporal Fred Howlett, who arrived Sunday morning.

The Band held an evening service outside our Comrade's home. At the night service a public welcome was given. Several Comrades spoke words of welcome after which Bandsman Howlett said he thanked God for grace that had proved sufficient for him under all circumstances. Bandsman Howlett gave a stirring address and several Comrades came forward.

The following Thursday Major McMillan took charge of the meeting and commissioned the different Comrades.

On Sunday, April 6th, God's presence was again in the holiest meeting two persons came forward and at night several knelt at the Penitent Font.

During the last two weeks we have seen twenty-nine seekers.

present had stood to their feet to avoid their determination to be true to God and follow where He led them. He said, "In the past there were times when men were required for desperate undertakings and volunteers were asked to step to the front. We are told that whole regiments responded. The Comrade has sounded out a call for men, and women too, to step to the front, for desperate aggressive service in the Salvation War. The call will not go unheeded. We are responding to it now and I believe the considerations entered into this night is a real one and will mark the beginning of greater advance in the Army's work."

SCHOOL CHANGES

HON. DR. CODY, Minister of Education for Ontario, recently outlined the schools policy of the Government. The main features are as follows: A bill will be introduced to provide libraries in rural districts. Teachers will be trained in the use of libraries, and they will be required to pay more attention to household science and to the needs of social and home life.

Grammar will be combined with composition, so that the former will be made less abstract than heretofore. More time will be provided for the "fundamentals" reading, writing, spelling, ciphering, geography, history, and also in the upper forms for manual training and household science. Home work may be lightened, but it will not be eliminated.

HELPING IMMIGRANTS

THAT the British Government is prepared to give more help and guidance to emigrants than heretofore was indicated by Lord Milner in a recent address delivered before the Imperial Institute. He said that the Government could assist in two ways. One was to try and direct emigration into the right channels. Another was to make arrangements so as to ensure that the emigrants on arrival in their new homes should have the best possible chance of success. Regarding the former, he emphasized the desirability of inducing emigrants to settle within the British Empire, so that they should not be really lost to Britain.

NEW ZEALAND AIR SERVICE

IN New Zealand, the Postmaster-General has announced that upon the conclusion of peace it is proposed to establish an air-mail service from Auckland to Dunedin, a distance of about seven hundred miles.

TRADE WITH WEST INDIES

THE question of the development of the trade by water between the West Indies and the Pacific Coast was brought up recently in the House of Commons. It was stated by Hon. A. K. MacLean that negotiations were in progress for a steamship service between Vancouver and New York which would link up with steamers to the West Indies.

COPPER IN MANITOBA

THE copper discoveries of Manitoba are rapidly assuming considerable magnitude. Prof. Wallace, Commissioner for Northern Manitoba, states that, in one copper mine, as yet undeveloped, 20,000,000 tons of ore averaging $8.75 a ton in value have been knocked out. He estimates that, when railway facilities are available, this area will provide employment for 1,000 men for about fifteen years.

TO PROTECT BIRDS

THE County Council of Middlesex County, Ont., has passed a by-law protecting all birds and game in the County for a period of five years. This action was taken on account of the unscrupulous slaughter of birds and game, and the consequent increase of insect pests.

REFERENDUM IN ONTARIO

IT is stated by Premier Heaton that a referendum on Prohibition will take place this year, probably in September. Four questions will be on the ballot papers, the first of which reads as follows: "Are you in favour of the repeal of the Ontario Temperance Act?" The others refer to the sale of light beer and spirituous and malt liquors.

In order to ensure the continuance of Prohibition it will be necessary for voters to mark "No" against all the questions.

NEW IMMIGRATION RULES

A NEW Immigration Bill is now before the Canadian Parliament, one purpose of which extends the time during which immigrants may be deported from three to five years. The prohibited classes are also extended under the new law. A literacy test will be set up and those unable to read will not be permitted entry. Persons will also be excluded who believe in the overthrow of constitutional government by force or violence and enemy aliens who have been interned or deported from Canada or any allied country.

HOMEWARD BOUND

THE American troops are now being brought back from Europe as rapidly as they were hurried over last year. Approximately 120 ships now are engaged in returning American troops from overseas, and additional vessels are being fitted out for this service with a view to increasing the homeward movement to 300,000 or more men a month.

BUILDING ACTIVITY

THE building season of 1919 promises to be a year of extreme activity in small dwellings. The great need for more housing accommodation, and certain conditions that have been offered builders of houses of moderate cost are viewed as contributing causes to the enlarged house-building programme for this year.

THE LUMBER TRADE

THE advancement of the housing plans of Ontario and Quebec have heightened the outlook of the market situation for lumber in Eastern Canada. The lumber trade feels that much depends on the export trade developments. There has been nothing definite thus far to indicate that Eastern Canada will participate in lumber export to Great Britain and Europe, but the trade is hopeful that such business will materialize.

REGULATING EMIGRATION

It has often been discussed whether emigration would be increased or checked in consequence of post-war conditions. From the Italian paper, "Il Sole," it appears that the Emigration Section of the Italian Reconstruction Commission has emphasized the necessity of regulating emigration in such a way that it should not check the imperatively necessary increase of national production.

POINTED QUESTIONS

Have you heard the call to leave all and follow Christ? Has not your soul been moved with compassion at the sight of multitudes going down the broad way?

Will you not say: 'Here am I, send me'?

HIS STIRRING LIFE STORY IN THREE PARTS:

- I. Dark Days Without Christ
- II. Dawning of the Great Light
- III. Exploits in Salvation Service

SUMMARY OF PREVIOUS CHAPTERS

Jim Smith, the main character of this story, had the misfortune to be the son of a drunkard. His early years were made very miserable, therefore, and he knew what it was to be hungry, cold and ragged. After Smith senior had drunk himself into the grave, Jim made a brave attempt to help his mother by working his little hands. His mother changed for the better when his mother married a weak-toothed foreman of a shipyard. Jim could not get on with his stepfather, however, and finally enlisted in the British army. His regiment was sent to Hong Kong, and the record of the years that Jim spent there is sketchy with accounts of drunken carousals, fighting, and gambling. At length his health broke down and he was discharged home. On returning his discharge he helped his mother in her business, but could not keep away from the drink. After a while he got married, and squandered the money he had earned by drinking and gambling. His young bride down when she upbraided him.

PART I—CHAPTER XIX. JIM FALLS INTO A TRAP

THIS day following his brutal treatment of his young bride Jim felt very much ashamed of himself and humbly begged her forgiveness.

"Yes, I will forgive you Jim," she said.

"But you must promise me to give up the drink—now do promise, for my sake."

"I'll never touch another drop of my dear," said Jim, "from this day forward I'll be a sober man."

ROSY DAY DREAMS

The young couple spent a happy day together, taking a trip to Harbourside and back. They talked a good deal about the future, and indulged in rosy day dreams as to the little home and business they would have, and how prosperous and happy they were going to be.

It was but a mirage conjured up by their imaginations; the real ones of Jim's business were very far away from him, and they were destined to wander through a dreary wilderness of sorrow and disappointment for many years before they reached it.

For a time, however, all seemed to go well. Jim worked hard at his early business and during his first week of married life succeeded in making over £4 (about twenty dollars).

His family and his business were to keep his promise to his wife and not a drop of drink passed his lips all that week and for many weeks after.

At first everything seemed to go well. Jim was able to buy a horse and cart to help him in making his rounds, his shop well stocked with all kinds of tempting confectionery, attracted much custom and so everything seemed to be going well.

At first everything seemed to be going well. Mrs. Smith said she was the luckiest woman in the world and took every evening to helping her husband get on.

She persuaded him to join a Temperance lodge and encouraged him to attend the meetings and take part in them, fondly hoping that this would satisfy his longings for company and a good time.

For Jim was a jolly sort of man and hated to be missing without his drink.

A POPULAR MEMBER

So at the lodge meetings Jim went in to enjoy himself. The songs were sung, and the speeches about the evils of drink, and in a short time became a most popular member. At several in-

possible for him to do anything by halves. When he drank he went at it good and hard, and when he became a temperance man he put all his heart into the business of cheering his fellow members and influencing others. It was freely predicted that he would become a great speaker in the cause of temperance and do a lot of damage to John Barleycorn and his lodge members congratulated each other in having secured so great a trophy.

But their rejoicings were premature,

"They called out a cordial greeting, inviting him to have a drink."

For Jim was destined to be the shocking example of how powerless were mere human resolutions in the face of fierce temptations. Nothing but the power of the old days in China and the money that Jim had made from the drink would lead him to entirely root out the pernicious appetite from such a body, and as yet Jim had not sought this.

DESPERATE EFFORTS

When the craving for drink would come upon him Jim would make desperate efforts to fight it off. On one occasion he made a bet with his wife and dipping a pen in the blood that oozed forth signed his name to a declaration that he would drink no more. His wife, who had just after doing this, and for a week or two went about with the idea that he had forever laid his old enemy in the dust.

But the drink had a nice little trick all ready for him, and just before Christmas, when Jim felt he had laid his old enemy in the dust, he had prepared a small stock of candy to take him to some store in the surrounding country, and one morning started off with a light horse in expectation of returning home with a good man of money.

He went his rounds and got the money alright, but he never got home with it. As he was about to start home-ward a man came up to him with a red-tailed bird, and with a snarl Jim recognized an old pal of his soldiering days in China by the name of Jenkins.

"Hello, Jim old boy," said Jenkins, clapping Jim by the hand. "How are you getting on? I'm right down glad to see you again, dear boy. My word—got a horse and cart, eh? and you're quite a masher, too? Ah, you're a lucky dog. Things are going well with you I can see with 'art on eye. Where are you bound for, dear boy?"

"I'm off," said Jim, "off to the north, hoping that the valuable Jenkins would go on his way and leave him in peace. But Jenkins was not going to be easily shaken off."

"Oh well, I'm going as far as the 'Bukanian Cigarettes,' dear boy," he said.

Jim was invited to take a hand

of the card and went into the 'Bukanian' with the three men. His chosen card was a bottle of ginger beer, which he took out of the pocket of his coat. He was not before Jim, who began to feel rather uneasy. After they had talked awhile a pack of cards was produced and Jim was invited to take a hand.

GOT WRONG GLASS

So interested did he get in the game that he hardly noticed he had taken the wrong glass when he went to take another drink and instead of ginger beer he got a good mouthful of whiskey. Probably one of the men had exchanged the glasses, for the mistake was at once noticed.

"Oh, ho," called out Ted, "look at the dear boy who doesn't drink any more. He's smacking his lips over that little taste of whiskey isn't he?"

The very taste of the fiery liquor seemed to intensify the old Jim's will power. He could stand the ridicule of the others no longer and in his old carousal manner he called out:

"I'll handle you all up the glass again. Whiskey will round this time."

And thus sealed his downfall. He started in the 'Bukanian' till he was helplessly drunk. His friends had to put him in the cart and drive him home.

When he awoke next morning he discovered that all his money—some fifty pounds—had disappeared.

After that terrible downfall Jim made no further attempt to keep from the drink. He simply abandoned himself to his appetite and in a short while his business was entirely ruined.

Feeling nothing but further disgrace and misery before him if they continued to live in Ipswich, Mrs. Smith persuaded Jim to leave the town. So one night they quietly slipped away, leaving an intimation as to where they were bound for.

PURPOSE

To pick up little moments of the day that slip away from us so quickly. While we are dreaming of our future, to be as busy as we mean to be.

Would make us rich in time we're wasting for?

Would give us happier hours at rest of our lives, crowd our lives with real life?

And comfort in the thought of work well done?

AND E. CAMPBELL

COULDN'T BELIEVE IT

"What gave up the drink?" said one of the men with a laugh, "you're just joking, Jim. Tell us that the world has come to an end, we would just as soon believe that."

"You can believe what you like," retorted Jim angrily. "I tell you I have given it up and am not going to drink any more."

"What do you think of that Ted?" said the other with an evil grin.

THREE SOULS AT SELKIRK WINNIPEG III

Captain Harris conducted the week-end services at Selkirk on Sunday last. The attendance was very encouraging.

In the afternoon the children enjoyed a Spiritual meeting.

Three souls sought Salvation in the night meeting, one had been a backslider for over two years. She was the first on our recently arranged prayer-list to surrender.

On Thursday, April 3rd, Adjutant Hardy travelled for Portage La Prairie, after a stay of over two months. During this time he has endeared himself to us. Many souls have sought God during these two months. Continue to pray for sick comrades, especially for Brother and Sister Pierce who have lost one of their children after a few weeks illness. God bless them in their sorrow.—T. O. H.
